LIIIIIIIII Numb. 6418.

The Daily Courant.

Thurſday, May 17. 1722.

London, May 17.
Yeſterday arrived a Mail from Holland.

Conſtantinople, April 13.

THE Marqueſs de Bonac, Ambaſſadour of France, having received Advice that the Inhabitants of the Iſle of Scio have deſtroyed two new French Churches, and inſulted the French Conſul upon Occaſion of his building a Houſe; has in his Audience of the 4th Inſtant complained to the Grand Vizier of theſe Proceedings: To which the Grand Vizier has promiſed to cauſe the Governour of that Iſland to be ſent for and be puniſhed for the falſe Report made by him to the Port about the French Conſul's Houſe, which the Governour pretended is deſigned to be converted to a Fortreſs; but the ſending for the Governour is to be upon Condition that the French Ambaſſadour ſhall not inſiſt upon the rebuilding of the two Churches that are deſtroyed.

Conſtantinople, April 15. The Perſian Ambaſſadour, who has been here ſeveral Months, had an Audience of Leave ſome Days ago, of the Grand Signior and Grand Vizier, and ſet out on the 8th Inſtant for Scutari, from whence he proceeds on his Journey to Perſia. The Letters from Egypt are arrived here, with the uſual Tribute which that Country pays to the Port: Thoſe Letters give an Account, that publick Tranquility is re-eſtabliſhed in that Country. The Plague ſtill continues here. The Ships deſigned for the Archipelago are fitting out with all poſſible Diligence.

Moſcow, April 20. The Czar's Departure for Aſtracan continues fixed to the Beginning of next Month: Prince Cazamir of Walachia, who underſtands the Turkiſh and other Oriental Languages, is appointed to accompany the Czar in this Expedition; as is likewiſe M. Tolſtoy, a Privy Councellour. It is now reported, that the Duke of Holſtein's Match with the ſecond Princeſs Royal of Muſcovy, is not to be declared till the Czar's Return to this Capital. The young Count Golofskin is married to the Princeſs Romadonofski: The Count's Siſter is to Marry, in a few Days, the young Prince Trubeskoi; and Prince Valenski, Governour of Aſtracan, is to be married next Week to the Princeſs Nariskin, the Czar's Couſen German.

Warſaw, May 6. The Senators of this Kingdom who were gone to their Country-Seats, or Governments, are returned to this City to wait the King's Arrival. The Ruſſian Troops encreaſe daily on the Frontires of Courland.

Stockholm, May 6. M. Berkentien, the Daniſh Miniſter, ſet out laſt Week from hence on his Return to Copenhagen. Captain Guldenrood was beheaded without the City Gates on the 4th Inſtant; and the reſt of the Accomplices in Colonel Stoben's Affair, condemned to be whipped or baniſhed, have received their Puniſhment.

Rome, May 2. Cardinal d'Acunha received here lately 120000 Roman Crowns, remitted to him from Portugal, and having received his Audience of Leave of the Pope, is ſet out this Morning on his Journey for Lisbon: He made the Pope a Preſent of eight fine Horſes, and gave two to the Governour of this City. The Return of an Expreſs from Vienna is hourly expected, in order to take a final Reſolution concerning the Inveſtiture of Naples and Sicily.

Genoa, May 2. It is reported, that the Emperour intends to give the Inveſtiture of Parma to one of the Princes of Bavaria, as being an Imperial Fife revertible to the Emperour in Default of Heirs Male. Three of our Barks have taken a Tunis Galliot, and two Gallies belonging to this Port that were ſailed for the Iſland of Corſica, have likewiſe taken a Tunis Corſair: Another Corſair of the ſame Port is taken by a Maltese Ship.

Milan, May 4. It is ſaid, that the Imperial Court has wrote to that of Parma, to diſwade the latter from receiving into its Dominions the Infante Don Carlos. And 'tis likewiſe ſaid, that the Duke of Parma has acquainted the Pope with the Contents of thoſe Diſpatches from Vienna, and deſires his Holineſs to ſend his Troops in Garriſon at Plaſança.

Venice, May 8. Our Ambaſſadours Extraordinary who are appointed to go to France, will ſet out for that Kingdom about the End of this Month. Beſides the eight Ships of the Line that are getting ready in our Docks, eight others of the ſame Rate are newly ſent there to be fitted out.

Ratisbon, May 11. The Cardinal de Saxe-Zeits has not yet made any Overture in the Dyet, nor to the Evangelical Body, of the Emperour's Reſolution concerning Religious Affairs; which occaſions many to doubt if any favourable Reſolution be yet taken on that Head, and gives great Uneaſineſs to the Proteſtants. Here is newly publiſhed the Letter written by Calvin to Luther, to conſult with him the Means for bringing over a great Number of Perſons, who though perſwaded of the Truth of his Doctrine, ſtill continued in the Pale of the Romiſh Church. That Letter is wrote in ſuch tender Terms, as manifeſtly ſhews, that thoſe two great Divines never lived unpeaceably together, nor bore the leaſt Hatred one to the other, as in the preſent unſeaſonable Juncture it is pretended that they did by their Followers, who violently oppoſe the projected Union between the Lutherans and the Reformed. It is plainly ſeen by that Letter, that had thoſe two Reformers but enjoyed longer Life, they would have united with much leſs Difficulty than their Succeſſours are likely to do now a-Days, who have over-ſtrained their Maſters Sentiments in Matters of Controverſy that are very little eſſential to Faith.

Falmouth, May 12. Yeſterday ſailed the Spencer Galley from St. Chriſtopher's; and the Alexander and Samuel, both with Tinn for London.
